U. S. Gunboat Anchors In Tampico Waters

MEXICO CITY, July 7.—The United States gunboat Sacramento, sent to Mexican waters as a result of alarming reports reaching Washington, arrived at Tampico yesterday, and is anchored in the harbor there. It was said in advices received last night from that city.

In view of the regulations of international law, which provide that foreign warships can enter the port of any friendly nation and remain for 24 hours, the Mexican foreign office refused last night to comment upon the arrival of the Sacramento at Tampico.

"The Mexican government," said Elias P. Calles, secretary of the interior and chief of the cabinet, last night, "does not see in the dispatch of vessels to Tampico a show of naval strength on the part of the United States inasmuch as there is no conflict at present which might cause the hostile presence of those ships."

The secretary added he anticipated no naval demonstration by the United States at any Mexican port.

President Obregon refused to comment on the situation in the absence of official communication from Washington regarding the sending of war vessels into Mexican waters.

The president declared the government did not intend to rescind the recent decree increasing the taxes on oil exported from the country, saying that every barrel of oil taken out of Mexico represented an exhaustion of the natural resources which could not be replaced. He asserted labor conditions in the Tampico district were not as bad as reported, asserting that at present not more than five thousand men were out of employment. He said the government was aiding them in every way possible.

Small Army Employed In Building World's Largest Gas Tank

The world's largest gas tank is being constructed at New York, N. J. The bottom of the tank, shown above, consists of 213 steel plates, weighing 475 tons. These plates are screwed to a concrete foundation. The small army of men at work screwing down the plates gives some idea of the size of the tank. At first glance the bottom looks like a huge dance floor.

MELLON SAYS IT OUGHT TO STIMULATE BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Treasury Secretary Mellon announced today that under a provisional refunding arrangement made with the railroad executives, the carriers would receive approximately five hundred million in additional advances from the federal government within the next six months.

M. Mellon said he believed the advances to the roads would be beneficial to the general financial situation and might assist in a resumption of business activity. In many cases, he said, the advances would enable the railroads to pay outstanding debts to industrial companies for supplies used during the past year and would in addition furnish funds for the betterment of equipment and repair of neglected railroad property.

In the long run, he added, the government would obtain a net profit from the advances since the money necessary could be borrowed at a lower interest rate than the securities which the railroads return to the government would bear. Railroad securities now held by the treasury, he said, amounted to approximately four hundred million dollars and interest and capital payments had been regularly met on all of them, giving the government an income of about eighteen million dollars a year.

In the negotiations with treasury officials, T. DeWitt Cuyler, president of the Association of Railway Executives, represented the railroads generally, Mr. Mellon said, but officials and attorneys for individual corporations were called into the discussions.

Mr. Mellon said the negotiations with the railroad executives "probably would be completed within two days and that the advances contemplated would give to the railroads in cash sums of money equivalent to those which the government spent in capital betterments during the period of war time control. The government will receive for the advances six per cent security evidencing the indebtedness of the particular railroads which receive the advances. It was explained.

All of the claims and counter claims between the individual railroads and the government arising out of maintenance expenditures during the control period are inolved in the negotiations.

Fix July 21 As Date For Tariff Vote

WASHINGTON, July 7.—With the house beginning consideration of the general tariff bill today, the Republican majority has fixed July 21 as the date for a final vote on the measure. Under a program of procedure agreed upon at a Republican conference last night, the period for general discussion will be limited to July 14, debate thereafter to be under the five minute limitation, when the house will consider the specific schedules which the conference agreed shall be open to amendment from the floor and voted on separately. These are the hides, cotton, dyes and oil schedules. All other schedules to be subject to amendment only by the ways and means committee. General debate, to be made the order by a special rule which Chairman Campbell, of the rules committee, said would be forthcoming today, will be preceded by a reading of the bill. Decision to have the bill read today, a task that may not be completed before adjournment, was reached at last night's conference.

Irish Peace Parley To Be Continued By Gen. Smuts

LONDON, July 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The prime minister Mr. Lloyd George, stated in the house of commons today that he understood General J. C. Smuts, the South African premier, went to Ireland on Tuesday last on invitation of Eamonn DeValera, the Irish Republican leader. Asked whether he had conferred with General Smuts before the latter went to Ireland, the prime minister replied laconically that he was seeing General Smuts constantly.

In answer to another query, Mr. Lloyd George said none of the dominion premiers would attend the proposed Irish conference in London, to which Mr. DeValera and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, had been invited.

Aside from this statement there was virtually nothing today to indicate what progress had been made by the "big four," comprising Mr. Lloyd George, General Smuts, Sir James Craig and Earl Minto, a prominent southern Unionist, toward reaching a solution of the Irish question. There was, however, official reaffirmation of the statement that the outlook was hopeful and that nothing had transpired which seriously jeopardized the prospects of a settlement.

General Smuts was received in audience this morning by King George, the latter having shown a keen desire to be informed of every move in the direction of peace in Ireland. General Smuts gave the king the impressions he gathered while in Dublin, the audience lasting half an hour.

General Smuts has been invited to attend Friday's meeting in Dublin between Mr. DeValera and the southern Unionists, but thus far has not definitely answered yes or no, merely objecting that he failed to see what useful purpose his attendance would serve.

In an authentic quarter it was declared today that recent utterances and acts of the Sinn Fein leaders were considered to indicate a recession from their demand for an independent Ireland and to imply a willingness to accept as a talking basis a "united Ireland." Its legislative and governing machinery to incorporate under a different name the Ulster parliament, which would have the approximate status of a provincial assembly. A similar body under such an arrangement, with some form of "all Ireland" assembly, consisting of upper and lower houses, which would serve as a coordinating body.

The king, it was stated today, has placed Buckingham palace at the disposal of Mr. Lloyd George for holding there the proposed Irish conference.

TAKES AIRPLANE TRIP; RECOVERS SPEECH

INDIAN HEAD, Sask., July 7.—A parallel to that of the American soldier who regained his speech during an airplane flight has been brought to light here. Over a year ago Wilfred Verner, a young farmer, was kicked in the head by a horse and he had been "unable to speak" until the other day at a picnic he took an airplane ride. As a result of his sharp loops and dives he was ill when he landed, but was able to talk.

President Takes Up Soldier Bonus

WASHINGTON, July 7.—President Harding plans to address congress in a formal way soon, probably by a special message, on the subject of the soldiers' bonus legislation and also the tariff and tax bills.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Deferment of senate action on the soldier bonus bill and suspension of business by the senate while awaiting house action on the permanent tariff bill were said to have been topics of discussion at a luncheon conference today between President Harding and Republican senate leaders at the capitol.

It was the first time in recent years that a president has made such a visit to the capitol. Until the Wilson administration the chief executive remained away from the legislative end of the capitol except when he (Continued On Page Two)

DEMOCRATS BRAND TARIFF BILL CONSPIRACY TO BENEFIT FEW FAVORITES AT COST OF HUMANITY

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Democrat members of the ways and means committee, in a minority report filed today in the house of representatives, denounced the administration tariff bill as a "conspiracy to benefit a few favorites at the expense of all humanity."

"Like every conspiracy it has been hatched in secrecy," the report says, adding:

"We record our solemn judgment that this measure is a plan to plunder the people of our own country and to oppress the people of every country for the benefit of a few men who have succeeded in usurping for all practical purposes the taxing power of this government, using it primarily to enrich themselves and, secondarily, to finance the political party which tolerates, encourages and facilitates the usurping."

Not Time To Write Tariff Law

The report declares the tariff was not an issue in the last campaign and that this is not the time to write a tariff law. They assert that the problems which "confront our people, cripple our industry, stifle our commerce and perplex an amiable administration have nothing to do with the tariff."

Criticizing the Republican majority of the committee for withholding the bill from them and from the house membership generally, and for permitting only a week for its study, the Democratic members declare there has been insufficient time to draft a substitute. They do not undertake any (Continued on Page Eight)

STARVING INDIANS EAT HUMAN FLESH

FORT McMURRAY, Alberta, July 7.—Canadian mounted police left here to investigate reports that starving Indians in the Caribou tribe had been eating human flesh. The report states that human bones were found showing evidence of cannibalism.

A few years ago, officials state Caribou were so plentiful that the Indians ate only the tongues of the animals, which they held as a delicacy. They slaughtered the animals in thousands. The propensity was made at that time by officials of the Canada province that the Caribou would soon disappear and starvation would be facing the Aborigines.

HUGHES TO USE VERSAILLES TREATY IN UNTANGLING U. S. FOREIGN AFFAIRS KNOT

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Has the treaty been officially discarded that document, Mr. Hughes doesn't intend to throw it aside. He intends to use it. He regards the resolution of Congress of imposing a duty on the executive branch of our government to safeguard all American rights under the Versailles treaty. Feeling that way, he will recommend ratification of that treaty with reservation. President Harding will have the final say as to what shall be done and he is being brought by members of the Senate to forget the Versailles treaty and make a new pact with Germany calling it not a treaty of peace but a treaty of "family and commerce."

Hughes Advising Harding

But secretary Hughes has gone at his job with the same energy as he used to give to the preparation of a case before the supreme court of the United States. Ever since Congress passed the peace resolution, Mr. Hughes has been concentrating on his part of the task. Congress having (Continued on Page Eight)

Mellon Opposes Bonus For Soldiers; Says U. S. Is Nearly "Broke"

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Congress Monday, of Wyoming, the senate and house Republican leaders.

Despite Secretary Mellon's statement opposing enactment of the bonus bill Chairman Fordney, of the house ways and means committee, said he intended to press for action on his measure to compensate former service men as soon as tariff and tax legislation was completed.

"I have no doubt," Mr. Fordney asserted, "that some such legislation will be put through at this session of congress."

"This is not a time to impose several billion dollars of new liabilities on an already overburdened treasury," Mr. Mellon wrote, adding that the bill would cost the country between a billion and a half and five and a quarter billion dollars. It would, he said, "swell the cost of government and virtually defeat the administration's program of retrenchment and economy." It also would block all refunding operations on the national debt and, he added, depress further the prices of liberty bonds.

The letter was read as the bill was called up in the senate and was characterized in a speech by Senator Underwood, the Democratic leader, as "strong, forceful and to the point." Just what effect it would have was not indicated by leaders, but it was said that protracted senate debate on the bill was in prospect.

There was a plan under discussion for an adjournment tonight until next Monday to provide a week-end recess in view of the defeat Tuesday of a proposal for a virtual adjournment for four weeks.

House legislation was said to have been discussed with President Harding yesterday by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, and Representative

Take Yeast Vitamon To Supply Energy Foods Lack

Put On "Stay There" Flesh, Strengthen The Nerves, Clear The Skin
Invigorate Your Body

Easy And Economical—Results Quick

Improper Food	25%	Proper Food	25%
Doctor	20%	INCIDENTALS	35%
TIME LOST FROM WORK	20%	TO THE BANK	40%
INCIDENTALS	40%
DEFICIT	5%

Thin, run-down folks who have been wondering why they remain so skinny and lacking in energy even though they seem to eat a lot, should try taking two yeast-vitamin tablets with their meals and watch results. Vitamin supplies in highly concentrated form a proper dose of the health-giving, body-building vitamins which escape in the cooking of many everyday foods and which science says you must have to be strong, well and fully developed.

If you are weak, thin, pale, generally run-down or feel lacking in brain power and ambition, you surely need to get some of these precious vitamins into your system at once. Vitamin mixes with your food, helps it to digest and supplies just what your body needs to feed and nourish the shrunken tissues, feed the starved brain, supply the body and skin. Complexions seem to vanish like magic under this healthful influence. Vitamin will not cause gas or upset the stomach, but strengthens the digestive and intestinal tracts, and helps to overcome even chronic constipation. So quick and reliable are the results that complete satisfaction is absolutely guaranteed or the full amount you pay for the trial will be promptly refunded. Be sure to remember the name VITA-MIN—the original and genuine yeast-vitamin tablet. There is nothing else like it, get it at all good drug stores, such as Frier and Strick, Walter Brothers, P. C. Miller, Brandel's Pharmacy.

Improves Sound of Drum.

Musicians find the drum an unsatisfactory instrument for lack of harmonic overtones. From India comes the description of a drum, the parchment head of which is loaded with an adherent composition containing finely divided iron. Such composition lies in a central circle. Around the edge a second ring-shaped membrane is secured and the effect of the loading is to produce good harmonic overtones.

Mrs. McCumber Avoided a Serious Operation by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Georgetown, Ill. — "After my first baby was born I suffered on with my left side that I could not walk across the floor unless I was all humped over, holding myself. I doctored with several doctors but found no relief and they said I would have to have an operation. My mother insisted on my taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I soon found relief. Now I can do all my own work and it is the Vegetable Compound that has saved me from an operation. I cannot praise your medicine too highly and I tell all of my friends and neighbors what the Compound did for me."

Mrs. McCumber is one of the unnumbered thousands of housewives who struggle to keep about their daily tasks, while suffering from ailments peculiar to women with backache, sideaches, headaches, bearing-down pains and nervousness, and every such woman should profit by her experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Omni-potent.

Harold was playing with a little companion, James, under a tall hickory tree. Said James, boastfully: "I can climb that tree." "Huh, you can't, either," replied Harold. "Yes, I can climb to the top," insisted James. Then, flashed back Harold, scornfully: "Who do you think you are anyway? God?"—Exchange.

What is your idea of a grinch? A fellow who wouldn't thank you if you scratched his back.

By order of the Board of Education, WILLIAM

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Onk Hill, O. Dear Miss Wise—Please publish the name of some Daily papers in Kentucky and where they are published as I would like to have the names of three of them.

DAILY READER.
The "Ashland Independent" at Ashland, Ky., the "Republican" at Greenville, the "Courier-Journal" at Louisville.

Dear Dolly—As I am 10 years old and am in the fifth grade, I want to earn some money. Will you please suggest something to do.

THRIFTY BOY.
You might ask the neighbors if they have any daily chores about the house and yard that you could do for a small sum, which would help earn a little spending money.

Miss Dolly Wise, Dear Dolly—What has become of Billy Whiskers? why didn't he finish his trip East?
One Of Billy's Readers.
The "Billy Whiskers" series has been discontinued.

Dear Dolly—Please tell us when the prohibition law goes into effect, because we have a lot of moonshine on hand that we want to get rid of before it is taken.
A. P. D.
Quit your kidding; the goblins will quit you if you don't watch out.

Want-to-get-acquainted—I cannot tell you who the young woman is whom you ask about.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a man of twenty-four and have been going with a girl twenty-one years of age. We have gone together about six months and I love her dearly.

I believe her folks have something against me, but what it is I don't know. She listens to them.

We were going to get married and now her folks will not consent to it. I want her and love her. What can I do?

JACK H.
The girl is old enough to marry without the consent of her parents. If she gives you up so easily you may rest assured that she does not love you as much as you would want your wife to love you.

If the girl seems sure that she will not marry you, I would advise you to let her go. At first you will be very unhappy, of course, but time will soften your heartache and later you will find some other girl to love.

Dear Miss Wise—I have never gone anywhere with a boy. My girl friend is going to have a party and she has invited several girls and told them to bring a boy. There are only two boys I could possibly take, my brother, who is four years younger than I am, and a boy who lives next door. Do you think it would be all right to invite the boy who lives next door? He has never taken me anywhere, but he often comes over and sits on the porch or stays in the kitchen while I make candy.

MARTHA.
I think it would be all right to invite the boy who lives next door. Naturally you would rather take him than your brother who is so much younger.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a girl of eighteen. Recently I have been going with a young man of the same age. The other day he wrote me a note saying that his parents would not let him go anywhere anymore and so he gave my ring back. At the end of a week he went to a party and took another girl home. Would it be proper for me to write and ask him if his folks will let him go any more than they would then, or do you think he just wanted to get rid of me and go with the other girl?

About a year ago I went with another boy of whom I thought a great deal, and still do. I think he also thought a great deal of me. At present he is not going with any other girl. How can I win back his love?

RIG EYES.
The young man used his parents' objection as an excuse. Do not write to him.

It is not in good taste for a girl to try to win back the love of a young man who is no longer interested in her. Let the young man go his own way and wait until some one shows an interest in you of his own accord.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

NEED'S SURPRISE
In the middle of Main street they parted. Edward to go his way, and Cherry hers.

"I'll meet you here at noon, darling," were the happy husband's last words as he left.

Cherry, all smiles, floated on, until she reached the portals of "Haulen & Son's" department store, which she entered briskly.

There was a decided stir among the girls employed there as she entered. It was evident that Cherry's decision to enter the business world had caused a furore in town circles.

Here and there Cherry heard a smothered giggle, but she paid no attention to it.

Mr. Arthur Haulen, Sr., came forward to meet her and welcomed her warmly to his house. He then introduced her to the rest of the staff with a flowery little speech, which amused Cherry beyond words.

That done, he led her to her special department, and to Cherry's delight there was a huge basket of dainty autumn flowers, charmingly arranged, awaiting her, and deep down in the daring heart of the blossoms a card which brought the smiles and blushes to her cheek. It read:

"To the dearest sweetheart in the world, with all the best wishes of her adoring husband."

"Mr. Haulen, may I set these right up here in the show place for today? They're from Ned, bless his dear heart. And they will sort of decorate my department as well as make me happy while I work."

"This little realm is yours, Mrs. Haulen. You are to be queen here. Do with it what you will in the future," said Arthur Haulen, generously.

Then, after explaining a few necessary details to her, he left the excited girl to face her first day in the shop.

With the unerring instinct which had helped to make her reputation back in Chicago, Cherry flew about arranging and rearranging as she saw fit.

He was stricken suddenly on last Thursday evening while at supper, and had been unconscious until his death. His mother, Mrs. Isabelle Whitlatch, and grandson, Stanley Schellenger went to Columbus last Friday.

Victory Grange will hold a dedication ceremony at their hall Thursday afternoon, July 14th, with Harry Caton, state lecturer, present.

"Don't forget"

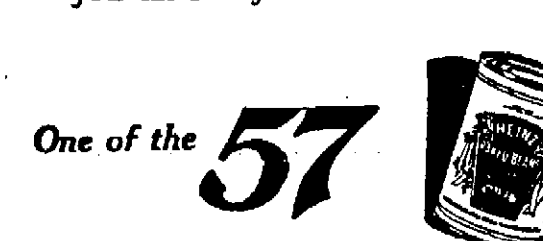

HEINZ OVEN BAKED BEANS with Tomato Sauce

You can't forget the good taste. Your appetite is a constant reminder of that rich oven baked flavor and the delicious tang of that famous Tomato Sauce.

Just don't forget to replenish your supply on the pantry shelf when it runs low. You want Heinz Baked Beans when you want them—and no other kind will do.

Order twelve cans one time instead of one can twelve times. It saves you money. It saves you time. And it's apt to "save the day" on many an occasion.

Heinz Baked Beans come to you all ready to heat and eat.

An Avalanche Of Values Present Themselves During These Sales

Twice a year we hold a final disposal sale—one in January and one in July. Though we hold many interesting sales throughout the year, these two are the most important, for all our remaining stocks of the season are offered at prices that bear no relation to their actual worth of value. But this season's disposal sale is destined to eclipse both in point of completeness and money saving possibilities the most brilliant twice a year achievements of other seasons. This is due to the unseasonableness of the weather — when winter winds persistently refused to give way to warmer climate leaving us with more merchandise on hand than ordinarily at this time of the season and to our determination that these great stocks of seasonable merchandise must speedily find new owners in order that our inventory sheets may be free from "carry overs" and small lots. Come tomorrow, the first day of our eight day clearance and help us accomplish our aims — and by so doing help yourself.

CHEMISTS CONCENTRATE VITAMINE FROM YEAST

Objectionable features and slow results with ordinary yeast have caused thousands to give up the Vitamine treatment, but now—thanks to modern chemistry—you can buy tablets containing a proper dose of concentrated Vitamine (Water Soluble B) made from yeast, with the still more important "Fat Soluble A" Vitamine, etc. These "Phos-Pho Vitamine" tablets made expressly for medicinal use contain nothing to disturb the weakened stomach, as plain yeast may do. Results are quicker, more economical. No harmful pimples, boils, carbuncles, etc., help correct constipation, beguile complexion, restore weight and rebuild the user. law or domestic policy. It is true the irreconcilable element is making considerable noise but the irreconcilables are not as strong as they were when the Wilson administration was in power and the entire republican party was conducting ageneral attack. Now it becomes a party matter. One of the Irreconcilables himself privately admits that if Mr. Harding and Mr. Hughes get together on a program and announce it, there will be considerable support for the same even from the irreconcilable group. He predicts that if Mr. Harding made the treaty a party matter probably only a half dozen would be cast against it. Certainly the Democrats would support the Versailles treaty even though they will make determined but probably vain effort to retain these clauses referring to the league of nations. More than two thirds of the Senate favors the ratification of the Versailles treaty with reservations. Previous votes show that and present sentiment confirms it.

detailed discussion of the individual schedules in the bill, confining their 27 page typewritten report to a general indictment of the whole measure and the manner of its preparation. Emphasis is laid upon two things—the probable effect of the bill on American commerce and the world industrial situation generally, and upon the substitution of the system of American valuation as a basis for levying tariff duties.

Must Use Treaty As A Basis

Furthermore, Mr. Hughes will probably advise his client that unless the Versailles treaty is used as a basis, just as President Harding said in his first message to Congress that he believed it would be the wiser course to follow, the entire foreign policy of the United States will be in a tangle.

Certainly one big fact has already leaked out of the department of state. It is that there is no present intention of renewing diplomatic relations with Germany until a treaty is signed between Germany and the United States. The Knox Porter resolution is really a one sided affair. It proclaims a state of peace so far as statutes of the United States are concerned. It doesn't bind Germany and Mr. Hughes is going slow about giving to Germany the advantages of a peace time relationship with the United States until Germany signs on the dotted line a treaty dissolving of the many claims which the United States holds directly and indirectly against her. Even the proclamation of a state of peace which usually makes peace and established fact after a treaty has been signed and ratified has not been issued by the White House. The delay is significant. It is one thing to have a congressional resolution declare a state of peace. It is another thing to put forth a proclamation notifying the world including Germany that the United States considers herself at peace. If the latter were true, there would be no need of a treaty of peace at all and the lawyers are expressing themselves against issuing a proclamation of peace until after a treaty with Germany has been made.

Irreconcilables Will Not Compromise

Mr. Harding is at the parting of the ways again. He has hoped against hope for a compromise. But the Irreconcilables don't see it that way. They see all sorts of things if the Versailles treaty comes back to the Senate. But Mr. Harding must follow the advice of his distinguished counsel, the secretary of state, or follow the Senate group which has blocked ratification from the start. The chances are that he will stand by Mr. Hughes.

Need Trade—Not Cut It Off

Pointing to the rapidly decreasing American foreign trade, the report says, "We need no tariff to cut off the imports and the exports of the United States." Calling attention to the foreign trade of the United States fell from $1,188,255,449 last July to $527,378,825, the report says.

Verily, the oil men are entitled to their reward, and the lumber men, the wool men and all the others who cast their bread on the waters of a Republican tide."

Infamies Mask War Through Bill

Dealing with the plan for American valuation of imports, the report says: "First among the subtle covert infamies that mask their way through this bill is the proposal to change the base for ad valorem duties from the actual price paid for them when purchased by the importer to a speculative, in definite, uncertain, nebulous opinion reached by an appraiser hidden in the recesses of a custom house, consulting if he is industries and cannot be bothered as to what is the alleged wholesale price of comparable and competitive products of the United States of the identical imported article, whether sold or not, excluding or including all or any cost charges, expenses, including duties and also profits and commissions; in short permitting the appraiser to place any value he may see fit on the goods and making it impossible for the importer to know what duty he will have to pay until he has actually imported and

'Nother Row Over Davis Reorganization

COLUMBIA, O., July 7.—Another squabble over the state reorganization bill may be aired in the courts, it was indicated here today.

A formal notice by Governor Davis to the state industrial commission, that its authority over employers has ended and that all its former help is now under control of the director of industrial relations, under authority of a clause in the reorganization bill, may be grounds for the suit, it was said.

The constitutionality of this part of the reorganization law is questioned by persons in close touch with the industrial commission. They claim that the duties of the commission are outlined in the constitution and that it is presumed that employers are necessary to carry out the work.

The governor's notice also set forth that the same provisions apply to the employees of the public utilities and tax commissions.

COUNCIL TAKES STEPS TO PROVIDE FOR EXTRA WATER MAIN; PASS APPROPRIATION ORDINANCE

There were only two absentees noted at the regular meeting of Council Wednesday night. Member Howard Moore of the new Fifth ward and President George W. Vandervoort and President pro tem Albert Weghorst presided in the absence of the latter. It was a rather long and busy session lasting more than three hours.

The semi-annual appropriation ordinance carrying with it appropriations of nearly a quarter million dollars to pay the current expenses of running the city for the next six months was passed. The sum appropriated for the various department funds follows: General $75,000; Service $35,000; Safety $38,000; Health $4,000; Cemetery $30,000; Hospital $22,000; Library $4,500; Waterworks $120,000. Total $448,000.

On the urgent recommendation of Mayor Gableman sufficient money was appropriated to pay the salary of an additional policeman for the Sciotoville territory. The Mayor declared that the providing of police protection was one of the crying needs of the suburb to the east, adding that the placing of an officer there would relieve a heavy burden from the present inadequate force in the city proper.

Extra Water Main

What were regarded as important recommendations in regard to the water service, particularly the situation at Damarin Hill, were contained in communications read from Water Works Manager George P. Shute and which resulted in Council taking the initial step toward providing an extra water main from the reservoir to Young street to prevent a water shortage by reason of a possible slip at Damarin Hill.

The manager in his communication stated that the break in the water main at Damarin Hill on June 9 was not due to any movement of the hill as such breaks occur in other places on the lines from time to time, adding that it called attention to the need of extra pipe line leading to the city; especially at points of danger. He pointed out that the best assurance for continuous water service would come from the duplication of equipment at points of most danger and suggested that measures be taken to obtain a right of way at the earliest possible time for the proposed extra line.

In his report on Damarin Hill the manager stated that in recent tests the leakage on the old main was about 22 gallons a minute but that no leaks show at the "hump" in the street and that the largest leak is at a place where the hill has been dug back for some distance. He further says that he has observed no evidence of a present movement of the hill or any that the water main has ever moved and gave it as his opinion that a further investigation will show that the old main may be placed in a satisfactory condition for use.

The reports were referred to the water works committee, Manager Shute and Solicitor Shelton for a report at an early date.

On motion of Chairman Westphal of the street committee the city engineer was instructed to make a survey and submit an estimate of the cost of grading a 16-ft. street in opening up Seventeenth street through to Mahbert Road. It was stated that the abutting property owners have indicated a desire to dedicate a 60-foot street and Samuel Timmonds assured council that the property owners had subscribed the right-of-way and were ready to make the deeds of dedication at any time.

Westphal Demands Action

Member Westphal demanded action from the B. and O. in regard to improving its part of Tenth street and on his motion the service director was instructed to notify the road officials to get busy and start the work within ten days. Engineer Wilhelm stated that the railway company was now engaged in assembling material to install new rails and new ties here in anticipation of starting work on the improvement at an early date.

On the recommendation of Water Works Manager Shute a resolution was ordered authorizing the purchase of additional equipment needed at the water works at a cost of $2050.

Ordinances were passed assessing the cost of paving Tenth street at $9.48 per front foot against the abutting property owners: $0.24 on Mahbert avenue and $4.00 on the alley between Ninth and Tenth, Waller to O'Farrell.

Resolutions were adopted to proceed with the paving of Bertha avenue, Trullion addition, and Plum street, Gallia to Rhinoceros avenue. A resolution declaring it necessary to improve Fourth street from Maddock Alley to "York" line.

A Clean Cool Scalp

Parian Sage Stops Itching, Keeps the Scalp Cool—Prevents Dandruff.
Almost everybody nowadays knows that Parian Sage is guaranteed to remove every trace of dandruff, stop itching hair and itching scalp, or the cost, small as it is, will be refunded. But you should know more about this marvelous hair-saver and beautifier. You ought to know that it immediately destroys all odors that are bound to come from the excretions of the scalp, and in that minutes after an application, no matter how hot the weather, your head will feel cool and comfortable. Everyone should have a bottle of Parian Sage handy because it is such a pleasant and exhilarating hair treatment. Ladies use it because they know it is definitely performed, not sticky or greasy and surely does make the hair beautiful, silky and abundant. Here's what a New York woman writes: "I have used Parian Sage two weeks only, yet in that time find my hair has wonderfully increased in beauty, thickness and luxuriance, but what surprised me most, was the disappearance of all dandruff."
A large bottle of Parian Sage can be obtained from Wurster Bros., or at any good drug or toilet counter—it's not expensive.—Advertisement.

Service Director Gerger's recommendation to employ to firm of Pearce Greeley and Hansen, sanitary engineers, Chicago, to make a sanitary survey of the city, was approved and the sum of $2500, was voted to pay the expense of the survey. The director being authorized to enter into a contract with the Chicago firm in order that the work may be started at any early date.

Water System for Sciotoville

An estimate of $72,830.00 for installing a water system at Sciotoville submitted by Water Works Manager Shute brought on a lengthy discussion on the subject of water main extensions and upon the suggestion of Member Osborn the matter was referred to the water committee. Board of Control and Manager Shute for recommendations as to what water main extensions should be made together with the probable cost in order that council may have something on which to base legislation.

Mayor Gableman declared that it appeared to him as a good business proposition to install the water main extensions and insist on each tap being paid for at the time made so as to reimburse the city and the real estate men, who are building a great majority of the homes. In discussing the problem, Samuel Timmonds stated that he had waited on water service for a section of this addition for three years and asserted that as soon as he secured a main he would do the rest and that it would mean an expenditure of $50,000 to $60,000 in the building of homes in that section. He urged council that his addition be taken in consideration in relation as to water main extensions.

Estimated Cost

The itemized statement of the estimated cost of installing water service at Sciotoville follows: 60 tons of B. & S. C. I. pipe at $47.00 at ditch $32,480; 23,900 feet of ditching and laying $23,504; 13 tons of specials at $120 at ditch $1560; 44 fire hydrants at $62 each, $2728; 95 valve boxes at $8 each $760; six 12-inch gate valves at $80 each, $480; 21 8-inch gate valves at $43 each $903; 68 6-inch gate valves at $27 each $1836; 1 4-inch valve $16; main line meters and manholes $2,000. Total $66,217 with 10 per cent added for contingencies makes the total $72,830.00.

A resolution was adopted granting the right of a carnival company to use a part of Madison street during its exhibition on the Mill lot next week, starting Monday.

A petition was received from John W. Dice and other abutting property owners protesting against the paving of the first alley east of Chillicothe, Third to Fourth and the alley east and west from Dice Alley to Gay street. They asked that the improvement be delayed on account of the high cost of material and on roll call the proceedings were ordered held up pending further action of council.

On behalf of a number of property owners Attorney A. C. Woodrow protested against the paving of Fourth street, west of Market, stating that he had examined the petition for the proposed improvement and found out that owners of the requisite number of feet frontage of property had not signed the petition. The matter was referred to the street committee as was also a protest against the paving of an alley between Third and Fourth streets, Offshore street east.

Questions Right

A communication was read from Manager Shute calling attention to New Boston officials flushing their fire plugs and questioning their right to do so. The matter was referred to the solicitor for an opinion and on the request of Arthur Bode, representing the Brombacher Realty company, the engineer was directed to establish the street grade of Seventeenth street, west of Mahbert Road, where, he stated, his company was contemplating the building of a number of houses. The engineer was instructed to hurry along the plan of numbering the streets of Sciotoville so as to facilitate obtaining of free mail delivery there.

A petition was received urging Council to postpone the work of paving an alley in the vicinity of Grandview avenue and Grant street until a later time resulted in the matter being referred back to the street committee for further investigation. The persons that petitioned for the improvement claim that many of those opposing the paving of the alley were not property owners and not concerned about the cost of the job.

Why Librarians Laugh

"Father wants me to get 'Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea,'" said a youngster at the librarian's desk. Possibly he thought it was a Reverse beach story.—Boston Transcript.

OUR IMPERILED POLICE FORCE

Editor of the Portsmouth Times: It is time that somebody should remind the public of the commendation and support due faithful officers of the law, and of the dangers which constantly beset these servants of the public. Every year hundreds of them are murdered while protecting life and property for mankind. The latest nearly case is that of patrolman Leffer, of Ashland, reported in your issue of yesterday, shot down like a dog by the villain whom he had treated only too gently after arresting him for wife beating.

We very properly honor the boys who went at their country's call, to the defense of humanity in the World War, and we hold in highest reverence the name of all who gave their lives in that glorious cause. But we too easily forget that society owes a similar debt of gratitude to faithful officers in law-enforcement, at home. Our civilization would perish without these guardians of all that we prize and enjoy. They are commonly looked upon as beneficiaries, rather than benefactors, because the officers they fill are sought after.

But if they faithfully do their duty they are entitled to all the emoluments of their position, and to public gratitude besides. The fearless discharge of their duties subjects them to constant peril from the lawless classes. Have we forgotten the murder of policeman Rafter, of New Boston some 12 years ago, shot to instant death by the man whom he had just arrested for an offense against a woman? The murderer escaped, then just as Porter did after killing Leffer the other day. Also, who can forget that Chief Baus was shot and killed a few years later by some desperado who was never even apprehended for it?

There is very properly just now a cry for law-enforcement, from the press, the pulpit, and the hearts of our government, state and national. The automobile, with all its blessings, has also afforded, unfortunately a means of escape from justice, which has encouraged immensely theft of every kind, and all crime of the vicious class. By other means the least of these is that old vice of illicit liquor-making and bootlegging. The liquor traffic always did assume that it should be exempt from that obedience to law and order which all legitimate occupations were obliged to regard. The very first revolt against the newly formed government under George Washington, was "Shay's Whiskey Rebellion" in Pennsylvania, which the Father of our Country suppressed with swift and sure action by government troops.

The spirit of the rump-demon survives to this day, though its corpse is buried and buried under the inevitable avalanche of the nation's ballots. It manifested its genuine nature lately in the bombs which it wrecked the homes, and tried to take the lives of the county prosecutor and the judge for doing their duty in Tuscarawas county, O. Does anybody doubt that

Hitters Were Curbed Yesterday

NEW YORK, July 7.—Tight pitching and perfect fielding marked the American league games yesterday, while hits were frequent in the National league contests. Grimes of the Brooklyn Nationals, pined out the solitary home run of the day. Two batters were the longest American league hits. In an errorless doubleheader between Washington and Boston, Russell of the Red Sox, and Mowbride of the Senators, battled twice in the bottom of the ninth, but neither was able to shut out his opponents with a drive hit in the second game, while the Senators could make only one run and eight hits off Jones. Daus, of Detroit and Fisher of Chicago, each struck out five men and allowed four hits but Daus paved the way for a White Sox victory.

In the National league Pittsburgh defeated Saint Louis in a thirteen inning game in which each team made thirteen hits. Boston won by outslugging Philadelphia 17 hits to 13 and scoring almost twice as many runs as the Quakers. In Brooklyn's one-sided victory over New York, Grimes, the Superbus twirler, made a home run, double and two singles. It was his seventh straight game won.

Your rifle's life

is measured by the priming in the cartridges

Every shot has some effect on the barrel. If you use a cartridge with an ordinary priming, the fouling attracts rust and digs little pits in the surface of the barrel. Coarse priming will scratch and wear the barrel.

These destroy accuracy, make the rifle hard to clean and keep clean, and eventually "wear out" the bore.

The U. S. Cartridge Company has developed a priming for cartridges which minimizes the effect on the barrel. This priming is in the famous N. R. A. 22s and all U S Rim-Fires. A rifle lasts longer at the time when it is most valuable—that is, when you have had it long enough to know it and regard it with real affection.

Be good to your rifle. Use only U S Cartridges. We sell them in all popular styles and sizes. Money back if not satisfied.

gains in the early stages of today's

D—Select Presents "The Palace of Darkened Windows."
E—Light—"Rebecca, Just Back From Mexico."

The biggest production yet released under the National Picture Theatres banner is "The Palace of Darkened Windows," which is announced for a first run showing at the Eastland theatre for two days starting tomorrow.

The story, which was adapted from the book of the same name by Mary Hastings Bradley, is a colorful and picturesque tale of India. The principal figures are Arlee Eversham and her aunt, two American ladies touring the country, who meet the Rajah of an East Indian Province. Also in the picture they make the acquaintance of Billy Hill and Capt. Falconer and both of the men fall in love with Arlee.

In the spirit of adventure Arlee accepts an invitation to visit the home of the Rajah, which is known as "The Palace of Darkened Windows." She is detained there by a ruse and her friends become worried, especially when a Hindoo Fakir intimates that Arlee is being held against her will. Billy Hill and Capt. Falconer go in search of Arlee and after many thrilling adventures in the palace learn that the Rajah has fled to the desert, taking Miss Eversham with him. The two rescuers have great difficulty in getting out of the palace and resume their search. Following a clue they reach the Rajah's pretentious Indian campment, and then in a stirring climax the story comes to a close with Arlee so thankful at being free again that she never wants to see again "The Palace of Darkened Windows."

EXHIBIT THEATRE

THE KILLER

Adapted from the novel of Stewart Edward White

One of the Best Programs Ever Presented by the Exhibit Theatre Closes Tonight. Stewart Edward White's Novel, "The Killer," and Eileen Sedgwick in "The Girl in the Saddle." Don't fail to see it.

Every one loves clean, stirring, breathless melodrama. It fascinates. Stronger is its lure when there is a beautiful girl in distress, helpless and hopeless, in the clutches of a superman who loves music. Is a charming host, but who at heart is a crafty killer.

Doesn't your blood boil when you think of that girl's plight, or are you skeptical?

The Amateur's Score.

W. S. Gilbert once received a letter from an amateur composer suggesting that they should collaborate. "Only serious" wrote the amateur, "will be satisfactory, for, though educated as a chemist, I am a born composer." Gilbert wrote back regretting that he could not comply with the request. "I should have preferred," said he, "a born chemist who had been educated as a musician."

The Most Fascinating Personality in Moving Pictures
PRISCILLA DEAN
in Stuart Paton's Tremendous Drama of Woman against Woman

Reputation
Her Newest Greatest
UNIVERSAL JEWEL DE LUXE
Presented by
CARL LAEMMLE

Last Big Night Tonight At The Eastland Theatre, Jewel Presents Priscilla Dean in "Reputation," The Tremendous Drama of Woman Against Woman. Special Musical Settings—Augmented Orchestra—Prologue and Other Features. Shows at 6:30 and 8:30.

Program
I.—The Eastland Weekly News Events.
II.—"Dancing Love," a new Christie comedy.
III.—Overture, "Encouragement"—Boettger—Eastland Augmented Orchestra—Wm. A. Spitzer, conductor.
IV.—"Reputation"—A prologue with music.

V.—Jewel presents Priscilla Dean in "Reputation." Musical settings arranged by William A. Spitzer. Entire production under direction of Robert L. Wood.

Eastland theatre, have attributed its force to the epochal story, the personal magnetism of the star, the elaborate presentation and the admirable direction; but all of these have overlooked a quality to which may be credited its greatest appeal. That is the quality of contrast.

"Reputation" is made up of contrast—drastic contrasts which carry a thrill with every rapid change from character to character locale to locale, and incident to incident.

As the story opens, Miss Dean is seen as a worldly actress in a country village, the first contrast. Then comes her European tour where she is feted at magnificent banquets, dazzling in profusion. In contrast to this is shown the man she has discarded, a friendless, pitiful wreck, wandering in the reckless alleys of Limehouse, the sewer through which the human filth of the world is kept away from the discerning nostrils of London toward the traceless gray immensity of the sea.

Then, when dissipation has marred her beauty, the woman is shown an outcast in the slums of New York while her daughter is seen in dignified elegance and comfort, taking a place on the stage and impersonating her own mother.

Maurice Tourneur presents
The Last of the Mohicans

James Fenimore Cooper's Famous Novel, "The Last of the Mohicans," Conceded To Be One of the Best Pictures Ever Produced, Is the Attraction at the Strand Friday and Saturday. You Cannot Afford to Miss This Treat.

"Never has such a picture been booked at the Strand Theatre," was the verdict of Manager Welch of that popular house after he had seen Maurice Tourneur's picturization of "The Last of the Mohicans," by J. Fenimore Cooper, which starts here Friday.

"There is everything for everybody," he continues "and not a member of the family can miss it, because it pleases the old folks by bringing happy remembrances of other days; for the middle aged—the fathers and mothers of today—the appeal is strong because of the personal environment element with the value of the picture solely as an amusement. These parents have another interest, that of educating their children, for Cooper's famous book is used in school work, and by seeing the film, the youngsters are doubly impressed, and their interest in literature is stimulated."

"Then for the boys and girls! What kid has not 'played Indian' and enjoyed it? Not a one, indeed. Therefore every lad and lassie of Portsmouth will have the very time of their lives at the Strand when this big historical picture is shown."

We urge you not to miss this wonderful production. Other strong attractions will be presented also.

Ventilation.
If for any reason sufficient ventilation by means of windows and doors is impossible, a pitcher or pail of cold water placed on a table in the center of the room will absorb many of the impurities. This is sometimes useful in the sick room. The water should be allowed to stand not more than an hour.

CARPENTIER MAY MEET GIBBONS

NEW YORK, July 7.—Hope of getting Georges Carpentier's signature today to articles of agreement for a bout with Tom Gibbons, on Columbus day, October 15, was expressed by Tex Rickard, who said he expected a visit from Desamps, the French boxer's manager, during the afternoon.

Terms for the match were understood to include a percentage basis of about thirty or thirty-five per cent of the gross gate receipts for Carpentier. It was expected that the bout would be arranged before the French man leaves for France to visit his wife and baby daughter on July 14. No trouble is expected from the Gibbons side of the contract.

Rickard had hopes to arrange the meeting for Labor Day, but Carpentier's broken hand will prevent him from entering the ring before the early part of October.

Another Convincing Endorsement Given Famous Nerv-Worth

Fostoria, Ohio, Man Quickly Overcame Weakness, Nerves, Sleeplessness.

"I had a sick spell, and it left me in such a nervous condition that I could not sleep," wrote M. L. Reizer, 20 W. North St., Fostoria, Ohio. "I was weak in the legs and couldn't go to work without being tired out at night. I decided to try Nerv-Worth and after my second bottle I am happy to say I sleep good, and I'm not a bit nervous. I am getting more strength every day."

Nothing needs to be added to the above statement to make it more effective because it tells its own story. Those who suffer from nervous disorders, stomach trouble, and their attendant ills, should take heed to this message for they will find that the old reliable Nerv-Worth containing extracts of roots and plants, will give them quick relief. If you are not satisfied after taking your first bottle, remember that your druggist is authorized to refund your money. Nerv-Worth is sold at $1.00 per bottle and recommended by Fisher and Stretch.—Advertisement.

Old-Time Methods of Persian Bakers.
The Persian native bread today is little different from that used 1,000 years ago. The Persian oven is built of smooth masonry work in the ground and is usually about the size of a barrel. Many ovens have been used for a century. The dough is formed into thin sheets about a foot long and two feet wide and slapped against the side of the oven. It bakes in a few minutes.

How Ohio River Got Name.
The Allegheny and Ohio rivers were regarded by the French as one stream. The name given by them, La Belle Riviere (the beautiful river), is a translation of the Seneca term "Hoh-ni-gah" changed by the whites, both English and French, at a later date into Ohio.

TURN 'EM LOOSE FOR A LITTLE MUCH NEEDED EXERCISE!

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarette aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

TOURNAMENT IS NEARING END

Defeat came last night for the first time to the Hilltop Eagles, and as a result four teams now remain tied for honors in the Horseshoe tournament. Each team has lost one game, and two of them will be forced out of the race Friday evening.

Christian Church Firsts, W. Sparks and Cline, were the duo who triumphed over the leading Eagles, Kitchin and Gerald. The Eagles made a strong start, winning the first game of their match before their opponents had scored a single point. The Christian Church team rallied in the second game and took the next three with scores of 21-13, 21-19, and 21-12. Sparks was the high man with 38 points to his credit.

Bierley and Yuley on Court Two also lost the first game of their match, but came out victorious in the end. Their opponents were the Hilltop Athletic Club Second. The final scores were 15-21, 21-14, 21-2 and 21-20. Aldridge had the high score with 44 points. Mooney tossed 15 rings during the four games.

The semi-finals of the tournament are scheduled for Friday evening when the Terminals meet the Hilltop Eagles and Bierley and Yuley play against the Christian Church Firsts.

The winners of the two matches will contest against each other for the city championship.

Stadium To Seat 44,000, Will Be Dedicated On October 22

DETROIT, July 7.—Fielding H. Yost, recently appointed director of intercollegiate athletics at the University of Michigan and for twenty years coach of the varsity football squad, told the Michigan club some of his department's plans at a luncheon here yesterday.

Yost said that the first of September, Yost announced, Michigan would have the third largest football stadium in the country. It is to seat forty-four thousand, he said, and will be dedicated when Ohio State meets Michigan on October 22. The stadium will be surpassed in size only by Princeton and Yale.

Many colleges, Yost said, have undervalued the importance of athletics as part of higher education. His new department, he added, would seek to train students in "playing the game of life, as well as in attaining high standards of physical fitness."

Solvay	4	12	.250

Thursday, July 7—Solvay vs. N. & W.
Friday, July 8—Central Labor vs. Solvay.
Saturday, July 9—Steel Plant vs. Solvay.

In a rarefied scrap that was as hot as the weather, the Champion Solvay club of the Industrial League, hung a 5 to 3 defeat on the Steelmen at the Seventeenth street yard, last evening. The winners putting across the needed markers in the last frame, when they hammered the offerings of Pitcher Test to the four corners of the earth. Test was not the puzzle of days gone by—recent days, too, for he was found for blue solid raps, and despite the fact the big fellow was a little peeved because at least two of the blows were not batted, he said to the credit of the Champions that they hit him harder than he has been clubbed this season at the Industrial League grounds. Nine hits in seven innings will win most any old time, and Mr. Test should not allow himself to become riled because things went a little contrary. The big boy should recall that there are boys when Babe Ruth goes hitless and if the champion home run slugger should get angry whenever he does not knock the ball in an adjoining county, he would lose the friendship of many admirers. Fact of the matter is Test was responsible for the loss of the game and he should not have ridden Outfielder Marion Haupt, one of the hardest working and most earnest players that ever took the rubber. It would have taken a man in an aeroplane to have caught Art's wallop in the seventh frame that spelled defeat for the Steelmen. It was over this wallop that Test stirred the hornet's nest. Let it be said right here and now that the fans do not encourage any rowdyism and neither will the officers of the league. There has never been a fight between ball players at the Industrial League grounds—and anything that would lead up to a game of fistfists will be nipped in the bud instantly. The game is flourishing as never before and many of these people who conscientiously opposed daylight saying so as to permit of con tests at the Seventeenth yards are now the most ardent supporters, and nothing will be permitted to occur that will in any way injure the sport. "Doc" Baughman pitched for the Solvays and as usual he was a puzzle for the Steelmen to solve. About bunched hits in one inning the other came across as the result of some wild swinging. "Chuck" Samson, the old pitcher, was willing to try anything. He was behind the bat and he showed a world of nerve, even if he could not handle the elusive slugs of the champion. But he was trying all the time and did mightily well for the whole. Bink and Bates were also missing and the Solvays presented a rather matched up appearance, but what they had was plenty good as it served its purpose.

The defeat sustained by the Steelmen put quite a crimp in their pennant aspirations, but will no doubt only serve to make them fight all the harder. Manager Richter had his boys on their feet before the time, and he will no doubt spur the boys on to greater endeavor. The team that profits by mistakes and defeats is the team that is going to get there in the long run.

The Steelmen gave Test errorless support, while the Champions spilled three errors along the way. Test had no trouble in disposing of the Champs in the opening inning, but they got their wind in the second frame and pounded out three runs. Rollins led off with a line single to center and C. Art's walked on wide ones. Meyers rolled to second, but Salsbury threw in. Rollins would try to score shot to the ball home. He shot the ball to the plate but all hands were safe. Kitchin laid on the first ball served him for a huge triple to the middle precinct, emptying the bases. He was caught off third on Samson's hot liner to George Staton. Baughman singled, but J. Art's rolled to the box and was slain.

The Champs won the game in the seventh. Meyers singled through second and Kitchin drove a hit to the same spot. Samson was hit by a pitched ball. Baughman missed the ball on an attempted squeeze play and Meyers was caught at the plate. A wild peg allowed Kitchin and Samson to move up. The former was caught at the plate on Baughman's roller to short. Fast play by George Staton, J. Art's then clubbed a double to center. Samson and Baughman scoring. Then Hansen fanned.

The Steelmen made a couple in the fourth. O. Lewis singled to right—a hard smash. He took second on a passed ball and went to third on Salsbury's roller to second. The game home on Devoss' single to left. The footloose left fielder stole second and went to third on Samson's over-throw. Kent fanned but Devoss came home on Haupt's smash to center for a base. He died, however, when he tried to steal.

The third and last run for the Steelmen was made in the fifth. Carver was safe on Staton's error. He took second on Test's roller to second and scored on George Staton's hunt. W. Staton was safe on Hansen's error, but Baughman put on the breaks at this time by fanning O. Lewis.

PITCHER'S BATTLE
CHICAGO, July 7.—Chicago shut out Detroit 2 to 0 in a pitching battle yesterday between Faber and Dams. Faber had wonderful control, while his opponent was shaky at times. Each was given perfect support. Chicago won in the sixth. Faber started with a walk and took second on Johnson's single. Mulligan forced Collins off. Collins doubled, sending in Johnson. Falk then walked and when Mostil forced Falk at second, Mulligan scored.

The Daily Times Baseball Team Uprooted Faded Morning Glories

When you hammer an opponent into insensibility, he is hardly responsible for his ravings. Incidentally, while many a man may give himself away while talking in his sleep, his remarks will not be accepted as prima facie evidence in a divorce case.

Therefore, be it resolved, That the account of the ball game between the Times and the Sun forces at the Municipal grounds, Wednesday evening as published in the Morning Sun be and is hereby accepted on the basis that the writer was insensible, peevish, disappointed, disgruntled and afflicted with a disease known to all true American sportsmen as "yellowitis."

The score was 22 to 1 in favor of the Times team—five innings the length of the struggle, by which time the Sun boys were sun-burned, flab-gasted, limped and begging to quit. They had had enough. And charity being one of the marked virtues of the Times brigade, the curtain was pulled down and the dead and dying left to mourn and console. It is said the Sun boys did not get home to their maul and milk until the shades of night appeared, making it perfectly safe for them to cut through alleys and back yards to their respective places of abode.

For the Sun team knows about as much concerning baseball as so many pie pumpkins in a corn field. They fully expected to win the game—had wanted to wager a fifty each they would conquer—had invited their wives and sweethearts to witness the struggle—had practiced faithfully, secretly—like Georges Carpentier—but they showed about as much promise as so many Airline pups in a beauty show.

And to top it all off they showed afterwards they could not take defeat gracefully—had to cast aspersions like a cuttle fish in the waters. Had to run home and tell their manhood that those bad Times boys padded them when they wasn't looking and hit 'em on their pants where it hurt—poor things. The Sun players told the public that the Times had rung in a lot of ringers, when the fact of the matter is that every man on the triumphant side was working at the Times office when the Sun lads in pinafores were washing dishes and pulling at rubber nipples.

Yes, the Sun boys were dopey—they had to work six straight days in one week—pitiable, tough—bloody! But they got a hiding that made 'em sore—so sore they thought to take revenge at the expense of the truth. Old men may dream dreams but Lordie, how they can hammer that apple. The grand old man of the Times made three hits, good for 8 bases, while the entire Sun club made three hits good for three bases and one of them the result of poor eye sight on the part of Umpire Buchanan.

The two teams will try it again next Thursday afternoon at the Industrial League grounds, and the general public is invited to come out at 3:30 and if the Sun team don't get a worse drubbing than it did last evening, it will simply be because the Times boys in their mercy will administer chloroform to put the Morning Glories out of their misery. The chance the Sun team had can be gleaned from the box score, so admirably garbled by the Morning Glory scribe:

Odd Marriage Customs.
In all Slav weddings the bride is fettered by the bridegroom, emblematic of the time when his forebears carried their uncles away forcibly. At Albanian weddings it is correct for the bride to weep and show great reluctance to leaving home. The bridegroom must present the bride with a handsome dress for the marriage, no matter what his circumstances are, so that it is known by all the guests that the dress the bride is wearing shows the taste of the bridegroom.

Ancient Ideas About Toads.
"A toad is a manner of venomous frog," so an ancient writer informed his readers. "In the right side of each frog is a bone that cools boiling water if it be thrown into it, and the vessel cannot be reheated unless the bone is first removed. Toads infest sage leaves with their poison. It is never safe to eat unwashed sage leaves for consequence. If you put a toad into a new earthen pot and bury it in a cornfield, there will be no hurtful tempests or storms there."

Tonight—Postoffice vs. Retailers.
Friday—Ohio State Life vs. Standards.
Saturday—Gilbert vs. Vulcan Last.

Had the Vulcan Last nine given their new twister Homer the kind of support he deserved along with his twelve strike outs the Standard Supply gang would not have had such an easy time winning with a 15 to 7 score last evening. Eight misplays on the part of the Vulcan infield let in as many runs and probably more the errors coming at the same time the Standards were staging a little batting rally by sending the ball far to the outer gardens.

Vulcans drew first blood when Graves hit to left, stole second and scored on H. Clausung's hit to middle. Standard Supply began their scoring in the fourth. Gee bounced to Burton who fumbled on a pick-up. Molster hit to right. Chabot hit to Burton who fielded clean, but Thompson was off the bag at first, and Gee scored. Molster scored when Burton fumbled Bryant's roller. Breunau hit over Graves' head, bringing in Chabot and Bryant and scoring himself in a close play at the plate. Vulcans tied up the score in the fourth with four runs. H. Clausung hit to middle and Cottrell was struck by a pitched ball. Thompson walked. Crawford hit into deep center for a triple, scoring H. Clausung. Cottrell and Thompson, Crawford scored when Brennan threw high to first on Millson's roller.

Smith started the fifth inning festivities for Standards with a walk. Baggs hit to third and Monk drew safe on Thompson's error, Smith scoring the first of seven runs. From then on the Supply boys hit often and hard and before the Lasters could put a stop to their high jinks, they had batted around to Smith again, scoring seven tallies.

The Vulcans tried to come back and annexed two when Cottrell scored H. Clausung by duplicating his pop over the parapet. Cottrell scored on Thompson's hit to right. Standard Supply made three more in the seventh.

Ancient Almanacs.
The clog almanac, once in common use in parts of England, is a square stick, on the four edges of which are cut notches to represent the days of the week and various symbols to indicate different festivals and holidays. More ancient than clog-almanacs are the Scandinavian runic calendars, made of wood, or sometimes of horn or bone, and inscribed with runic letters.

POINTS OUT THE SOURCE

PRESIDENT HARDING told a gathering of officials, assembled to discuss ways and means of reducing governmental expenditures that "there is not a menace in the world today like growing public indebtedness and mounting expenditures."

The words are by no means clear, but still we think we get at the President's meaning, the main obstacle to a "return to normalcy" is the high cost of government, a cost that in spite of decreasing revenues is ever mounting up.

This situation is well nigh incomprehensible, and existing not alone with the national government, but with the state, city and county, well nigh without exception.

How little congress sees the menace, as does the President, is shown in one long and stern fight the house had to make with the senate on the issue of army and navy appropriations. But there is much hope it will be brought to a realization of the part it must play in absolutely saving retrenchment in the naming of Charles Daves chief of the budget bureau. This bureau hasn't any particular authority, only in a general way supervising appropriation estimates, but Daves is wholly committed against waste and extravagance and he will such vividness and potentiality into his work and duty that he will bluff congress into some sort of moderation and common sense in spending the public money.

In finality it will depend pretty much upon how long Daves continues on the job. He can't discover all the waste and squandering in a few weeks or months, because these are infinite, often the tiniest leaks but swelling in common to an appealing total.

Always provided, of course, that he speaks not only the words, but the mind of the President for congress will do whatever Harding wishes real hard to have it do.

AN EXCELLENT PLATFORM

IN reply to the acerbic criticism, that in its three months of unshackled power congress and the administration has done nothing to relieve a depressed condition, but has let it run unrestricted from bad to worse, the answer is given that the belief is that the way to restore confidence, and so prosperity, is to limit legislation severely and not to legislate voluminously.

That phrasing has a Hardingesque ring to it, but it is generalization with genuine merit in it. Legislating the country back into prosperity is impossible and pregnant of danger later on. The way back to normalcy must be by due and normal processes.

It was through no lack for fault of laws that hard times descended upon the land. They came because of the jarring of the whole machinery of business and commerce out of gear by war, by the waste and extravagance bred thereof, the universal lapse into disorder and dissatisfaction, the innate greed of all to grab the most for self and give the other fellow the least.

No law can reach or cure these causes or the conditions which they produce. The nation has got to be cleansed of them so as by fire, and fire, in this instance, is hard times, running ordinary and natural course.

The national administration does well to recognize this truth; it will be wise to stick to its profession by rigid practice.

AN AMBITION REALIZED

AFTER a considerable delay, for which no reason appears, President Harding has met the will of the people by appointing William Howard Taft, ex-president, chief justice of the United States supreme court.

It is an appointment that seems as happy as it is popular. Judge Taft was not successful as president. For some reason he incurred the hostility of the dominant forces in the Republican party and on his second nomination was the victim of a bolt in his party, inspired from that source.

It is singular that after his failure and defeat he should come to hold a warm place in the hearts of the people and their conviction that of all our public men he is the most ideally fitted for the position to which he has just been named. That is indisputable the case, however, and public confidence in the highest tribunal in the land will be immeasurably increased by him going to the head thereof.

Mr. Taft modestly says that it has been the ambition of his life to be chief justice, but now that he has come to it he trembles as to his sufficiency to satisfactorily discharge the responsibilities thereof. He does not do himself justice with such fear. He is an honest, just and able man and these qualities will hold him steadfast and right.

Well, well and did you ever once more and again! Harding is to have his confidential, his Colonel House, just as Wilson did. No, it will not be Colonel House himself upon whom the President will lean, when there seems no other whom he can trust, but Howard Mannington. And fellow Buckeyes, they call Howard Mannington in Washington and say he is expected to be as solemn, silent and sagacious as was Wilson's Texan. Wow, but wont that be hard—on "Howdy."

Notice, this solid proponent of common sense said the opposition in the labor federation to Gompers was mostly noise and it was.

Have you noticed any improvement in the public health and safety since Davis's bureaucratic government began functioning Saturday?

The attorney general has told us what he thinks of the minority judges of the supreme court, who disagreed with the majority. We would hate to print what the minority thinks of the attorney general. Meantime the said attorney general might enunciate his opinion of all the majority of people who agree with the minority judges.

Needn't tell us it is hot. We know it, but at that the good old summer time for us every time and all the time.

The Changing Taste In Souvenirs

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.—Washington, generally known as a non-commercial city, is a bustling center of one trade—the souvenir business. The way to the Capitol along Pennsylvania avenue is marked by a string of stores that cater only to the seeker of souvenirs.

The casual glance at the windows of these stores would convince any one that the day of the Victorian knick-knack is not entirely over. The mahogany what not that stood in the parlor corner and displayed shells, statuettes, and pipe-cone thermometers on its towering shelves is perhaps a relic, but the kind of thing it held is still with us.

The window of any one of these souvenir shops is crowded with a glittering array of what must be suitable souvenirs. There is a clump of paper cutters warranted old enough so that a baby could cut his teeth on them with impunity, and rendered further attractive by the Capitol dome embossed on each silver handle.

Beside the paper cutters is a row of jewel cases with a shiny gold or silver finish and a red velvet lining, and the Capitol, looking as natural as ever, on the cover. Then comes ranks of silver candle sticks, cases, pin trays, ink safes, in fact anything the most exacting tourist could desire to wish upon his friends, and every one of them displaying a full face view of the Capitol.

Above the carefully arranged disorder of the window shelf hang pillows and pennants. The pennants have "Washington" sprawled across their entire length, but the pillows, as might be expected, wear the Capitol, with a wreath of pink roses twined around about its dome.

The windows of these souvenir muscans are sure-fire bait for the stranger in town, and even the hardened native may find himself pausing to look over the exhibit. Sailors, children, dreamy couples, and ordinary tourists frantically collecting appropriate souvenirs for the folks at home, are the patrons who progress from the window to the interior.

Here they are rewarded by further wonders. The window was only a sample case, but the shop itself might easily be warranted to contain every possible article on which the Capitol could suitably be emblazoned. To complete the illusion of a universe of capitol, mirrors in the walls back of the glass show cases multiply the stock to the nth degree.

Contrary to a first impression, sales in souvenir shops do change. The silver spoon with some celebrated building adorning the handle was 20 years ago the popular souvenir of a trip to Washington. Then came the macerated money cane.

Souvenirs Made of Money
The paper pulp which was left when old bills were ground up at the Treasury bore faint signs of having been money. The pulp was used largely in book binding, but some geniuses thought of making souvenirs of it. So fine was the paper ground and so tightly was it packed that a miniature Washington monument could easily be labeled $100,000, and no one could dispute the claim. A still smaller piece of George Washington's head, about three inches tall and very thin, was marked on the back $5,000.

The macerated money souvenir proved a profitable and popular scheme, and for some years the little figures sold regularly. But to make the money in the article more obvious an attempt was made to tear off bits of gold bills and paste them on to show parts of figures. The pieces were much too little to be redeemed but the Government decided the money souvenirs were getting to be a nuisance. Treasury officials had acid put in the water which macerated the printing on them to destroy the printing on them. After that the macerated money looked so different from any other kind of paper pulp, and the souvenirs were spurned.

The Post Card Craze
But there is always something new to take the place of a defunct novelty. The post card had a long and exciting career as a souvenir. When people collected them, only a few years ago, there were a dozen or more makers of cards in Washington alone. Even now, views of Washington sell by the thousands every year. There are as many as 200 different cards of Washington, ranging from such old stand-bys as the monument and the White House, to the newer cards of President Harding, the Lincoln Memorial, and the Capitol on a rainy night.

As long as tourists rush about trying to see everything in a limited time, the post card will be a necessary adjunct of travel. The simplest form of long distance communication so far discovered is the post card, say the Medical Museum, carrying the reassuring message, "We saw this today."

The travel post card is still used as a stereoscopic slide in simple home entertainments, but as a fashionable souvenir for a parlor album, it is as passe as the paper-weight shell with the Mount Rushmore cut on it.

Some of the once-familiar trinkets which have passed out of the tourists' life, had an unlabeled end through the war. Germany furnished many of the cheaper souvenirs, and American manufacturers have not been able to make some of them at salable prices.

We are told by a man who is closely in touch with the latest developments of the souvenir business that the present fad is the photograph. After getting this significant tip on the situation, it would be obvious to any untrained eye that the photograph is certainly being featured in Washington. Every downtown window displays the Capitol on a rainy night, the White House on a rainy night, the Monument at night—in this last instance is dispensed with as there is no way of reflecting the monument in the grass which surrounds it.

Then there is the much-copied picture of Washington's Japanese cherry trees, without which we imagine no home is complete by this time. In this reflection is in the water over which the trees shed their pink petals. The latest attempt at romance in Washington scenery is a view of the cherry trees, pink as ever, with the Lincoln Memorial in the offing, looking like a Greek Temple.

This kind of thing, we are told, is supplanting the stamped leather card case, and the breakfast cup with George Washington looking dignified on one side and Martha looking dignified on the other. It may be so. But any one who loves Washington, must shudder to think of a time when the Capitol will no longer be a familiar and beloved feature on the nation's jewel cases, pillow tops, and shaving mugs.

The Short Message
While a prominent Philadelphia salesman was in Pittsburg on business he received the following telegram from his wife: "Go to home as soon as you can. I am O'-ing."

Of course, the salesman rushed home, but to be greeted at the front door by his wife with a face radiant with joy.

She shook her head in reply.

"It was that crazy old operator," she said. "I wanted to say: 'Come home as soon as you can. I am dying to see you,' but he would only let me send ten words for a quarter."

Q. Do many Americans visit Japan?—H. W.

A. The total number of foreigners visiting Japan in 1920 was 28,205. Of these 10,696 were Chinese, and the Americans were next, with a total of 6,890.

Q. Is the boll weevil attracted by artificial light?—R. S. C.

A. Experiments show that while many insects resembling the boll weevil are attracted to lights, this cotton pest cannot be captured by such means.

Q. What color is crude oil?—J. H. T.

A. Petroleum is of varying color, being black, brown, red, amber, green; and is, by reflected light, often strawish in tint.

Q. What has become of Thomas Jefferson's writing box, on which he wrote the Declaration of Independence?—H. E. Z.

A. This valuable relic is in the library of the State Department, Washington, D. C. The writing box is mahogany, 11 by 16 inches in size, 2 1/2 inches deep, and contains a drawer fitted with pigeon holes. It bears this inscription in Jefferson's handwriting: "Th. Jefferson gives this desk to Joseph Coudage Junr. as a memorial of affection. It was made by Ben Randall, a cabinet maker of Philadelphia with whom Jefferson first lodged in May 1776, and is the identical one on which the draft of the Declaration of Independence was written. Politics as well as religion has its superstitions; these gaining strength with time may one day give imaginary value to this relic for its association with the birth of the great charter of our independence. Monticello, Nov. 18, 1825."

Q. Is the plant teased or Fuller's thistle used in cloth-making?—J. G. H.

A. The heads of the teased plant, which are cylindrical with oblong black pointed, rigid bracts between, are used for raising the nap of cloth. The heads are split and fixed on the circumference of a cylinder that revolves against the surface of the cloth. No mechanical device has yet been found to equal this natural contrivance.

Q. How many times has the choosing of a President devolved upon the House of Representatives?—V. H.

A. Thomas Jefferson became President first time by virtue of the balloting of the House of Representatives. This is the only time that an election has been carried to the House.

Q. What states lead in the production of corn and wheat?—R. S.

A. In 1920, Iowa led in production of corn and Kansas in production of wheat.

Q. Why are carnations called pincks?—N. M. I.

A. This name is derived from the verb pink, meaning to puncture or pierce, and the flowers were so-called on account of the jagged edges of the petals.

Q. What is the meaning of ibid?—G. I. T.

A. The literal meaning of this is "the same."

Q. Please tell me how to cream yeast beat top greens, 1-2 pint of milk or equal parts of milk and cream, 2 tablespoonsful butter, 1 tablespoonful flour, 1 teaspoonful salt. Melt the butter in a saucepan; add the flour, stirring until frothy. Add the minced beat top greens, salt to taste, cook five minutes. Add the milk; cook three minutes longer; serve hot.

The Return To Reason

Farmers in the middle west who paid $3, $40 and $12 a day for help during harvest, and found it scarce at that, are paying $3 and keep this season. Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas crops are cut and under cover now, with yields much larger than last year.

In New England last fall there were 4,000 abandoned, vacated or unoccupied farms. This summer there are not 800. The soil is turning to its own again. One great farm agency had 200,000 inquiries from farm seekers, people who never again want to be in the pinch of food, extortion and outrageous rentals in cities. They are getting back where the family cow, pig, potatoes and garden truck will insure them against famine.

Eastern Ways and Customs

In Japan the carpenter pulls his plane instead of pushing it, the seamstress needles her thread instead of threading her needle, and many other things are done "backward," according to our ideas of the way they should be done. In China they do not bury their dead. They place the coffin on the surface and heap dirt over it to the height of five feet or more. They worship the spirits of their ancestors and live constantly with a view to pleasing their dead rather than their living. A queer mental conception of duty to those who have been gathered to their fathers, we think.

The Chinese graves, being on top of hills instead of under the ground, are just now seriously interfering with road building, a matter of prime importance since the world over since the automobile stage of civilization has been reached. Both the affections and the religion of the Chinaman are involved in the graves of his people, which cover great stretches of territory in all directions. So numerous are they that straight roads are simply impossible unless graves are removed. Such a profanation of sacred spots fills the followers of Confucius with anguish. But some day commercialism will get them and their traditions will fade. There is too much wealth under the soil of China for it long to remain undisturbed.

Sudden Riches

An Englishman, Capt. T. Albau Jones, who paid less than $3 for a ticket in the Calcutta Sweep, has won $345,000 on the horse Hummerist. It was the first sweepstakes he ever won, and the first horse he ever backed.

The young fellows who hulk the toddler up as something new under the sun came into action too late to remember the "put" and "take" tops of the late '70's. The toddler thing is the same exactly in principle.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MANTYRE

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Long Island house party season is on. The porch comedians in their white flannels and open at the throat shrills and their annual opportunity to exchange free meals for reputation is on. From Friday to Monday they expect food and lodging and whatever drinks are on tap.

At midnight they don their bathing togs and tumble off the verandas into the ocean and Jap servants serve cocktails to bathers from frosted shakers. Then without dressing they pile into waiting motors and joy ride over the ribbon like roads. Sun up is bed time and breakfast comes sound at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Sedulous matrons have their little flirtations with boys with the patent leather hair and mustaches as cute as a cat's purr. All the talk is sketchy and punctuated with smart sayings and repartees are torn to tatters. The wine of life had a head—until a day after and then there is a rush for bromo and aspirin. No celebrated divorce in New York is complete without a close-up of a Long Island house party. Somehow or other the erring wife or husband starts the marital smash-up at one of these affairs. The season is an El Dorado for divorce lawyers.

The other week I visited a man who is interested in moving pictures. He goes to Long Island for a rest and has no interest in the fast life of the gay set. About dusk a party of eight dropped in. The host politely served refreshments and the crowd stayed on. Some one told the host half-jokingly that he had not invited the party to dinner. "That isn't the half of it," he replied and there was a stern note of determination in his voice. "It is perhaps well to speak plainly. You are not going to make a roadside inn of my house this summer. I never expect to invite you to dinner. In fact I didn't ask you today but I have tried to be hospitable. I think it is time to go now. I have telephoned for your car."

And they trotted out—not even ashamed. "They'll be back," he told me. "It is impossible to insult them—what do they care for an insult when there are food and drinks to be had? It is all a mere polite form of beggary."

There are indications that many apartment house proprietors have lost heart in the matter of keeping up rents. They are sending out letters soliciting business whereas they lodged tenants last year. They also infer—in the delicate verbiage of their calling—that special inducements will be made to prospective tenants if they sign up now. In other words they fear they are going to have empty apartments. One case indicative of the downward trend came under my notice. An apartment a friend rented last year for $5,000 was secured for next year at $3,500.

It requires unceasing patience and deathless fortitude to write for the magazines. An editor told me the other day of a college bred man, who knew the technique of story telling but who had written 300 stories without a single acceptance or even a personal note of encouragement. And yet he is not going to give it up. "Some day," the editor said, "he will land. In the meantime his rejected manuscripts have furnished the ground-

Annual Rainfall.
There has been recalculation from recent data the amount of rain annually falling upon the earth's surface. It is found that it is equivalent to a layer of water of the uniform depth, for the whole globe, of about 33 1/2 inches. The amount falling on the land is equivalent to a uniform depth of 29 1/2 inches. Consider only the land which is drained by rivers flowing into the sea, it is calculated that only 30 per cent is returned to the ocean, and that the rest is removed by evaporation.

"Latitudinarian"
This name was often applied to a school of English writers in the seventeenth century who sought to reconcile the Church of England and the puritan element upon the basis of subordinating differences in doctrines to the broad essentials of religion.

Domestic Repartee

The publication of humiliating warnings by husbands whose wives have left them, has long been amusing to the public which does not "sense" the tragedy behind them. Formerly wives thus pilloried suffered in silence as a rule, but of late have been responding in kind. As entertaining an instance of a woman's righteous indignation as we have seen recently appeared in the Binghamton Sun. The aggrieved husband advertised:

"To whom it may concern, my wife Margaret Nina Pickert having left my bed and board, I will not pay any bills contracted by her. Charlie M. Pickert."

To this public expression of resentment the wife, spurred by her spouse's fear for his purse, responded: "My husband, Charles Pickert, never paid my debts, and never paid even his own, so why advertise me?" NINA PICKERT.
